

The stuff of legends

WHAT: The Land of Legends Annual Ingwazi Awards WHERE: Fordoun Hotel and Spa WHEN: Last Sunday

THE HOST

The Land of Legends is an association of tourism-linked businesses that get together to showcase the quality, beauty and diversity that KZN has to offer, says Fordoun Hotel and Spa GM Richard Bates. 'All members need to have historical links and a strong social and environment focus; most importantly, a philosophy that what you put into the association is more important than what you get out. The association's Ingwazi Awards is an opportunity to acknowledge those who have made KZN a better place. This year we recognised two brilliant conservationists, Andrew Zaloumis, CEO of iSimangaliso Wetland Park, and Simon Naylor, conservation manager at Phinda'

OVERHEARD

6 I think I could kill a goat, but I could never kill a penguin

WTF!

A handcrafted work of art from Ardmore Ceramics hands-down beats a bog-standard trophy

WHO GOT THE NOD

VIEW PROFILE: Dedani Mkhize

AMUSED: Meryl Kurz and George Carter

ONE STEP AT A TIME: Fee Halstead, Catherine Burning, Megan Berning, and Richard Bates Pictures: ROGAN WARD

BEST DRESSED

Ndabo and Mpume Langa brought a vibrant splash of colour to the event

SPARKLING: Reggie Purbrick and Cheryl Goss

SPINNING A YARN: Storyteller Rob Caskie

SHOW OF APPROVAL: Michael Sheehan

MAN IN THE MIDDLE: Andrew Zaloumis

BUBBLY OCCASION: Jane Smorthwaite, Laurie Smorthwaite, Scott Cooper